VANCOUVER CORRESPONDENCE.

VANCOUVER, April 19, 1866

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The long agony is over. Last evening at about eight o'clock on the thirty fourth ballot, the Cops put in nomination for Delegate to Salt River, Frank Clark, "the orphan boy." This result was effected by the treachery of Short, of Clarke county, who, in opposition to the action of the county and all his fellow delegates under instruction of his brother-in-law Lawrence, went over to the "Boy" and thus gave him a majority. When the result was announced, the scene was altogether sublime. Frank Dugan moved that the nomination be made unanimous. Van Vleet, of Clarke county, wanted his county counted out of that ring.

H. L. Caples and Judge Lancaster declined to endorse the nomination. These old Democrats declared that the Democracy of Clarke county would maintain their rights. On putting the motion to make the nomination unanimous, it was lost. The Orphan was too big and fat for a considerable minority of the Convention to swallow. The mouthful would go the wrong way. Under such a state of things the nominee arose to respond to the compliment (?) the Convention had given him.

Only those who have listened to his oratory can understand with what pathos the orphan dwelt upon the unexpected and undeserved honor. How he thanked the Convention—that part of it, at least that voted for him—and how he would defend the Union and the Constitution, and strike down the bloody hands lifted to destroy them. That, of course, meant Grant and Sheridan and Thomas and Sherman. His speech was received with cheers, only some old time Democrats didn't cheer a bit. This latter fact threw a cloud on the brow of the Orphan. He seemed to see among the ides of June a ghost like form stalking across his path, shadowy at first and dim then real flesh and blood. He shaded his eyes with his hand a moment, and then read the fatal name—FLANDERS!—a synonyme of victory for the Union party of Washington Territory.

So the battle is begun. The Union men of the whole Territory are standing firm for "Flanders and victory," and without a fear of meeting the cohorts of rebellion. Washington Territory will not disgrace herself, and sever the ties of sympathy which bind her to the great Republican Union party of the nation, and of Congress, by sending to represent her at Washington a man whose heart never had a true beat for freedom or virtue.

The Union delegates from Clarke, Skamania, Klikitat and Yakima yesterday put in nomination for Joint Councilman for the legislative district, composed of those counties, Hon A G Tripp; and those from Clarke, Cowlitz, Wahkiakum and Pacific, for that District, Hon. H G Struve. This closes the work of the Conventions. The delegates have nearly all left the city and everything is as before, only the Democratic Convention carried away about a thousand gallons of whiskey.

OBSERVER.

THE "EXPOSITION" A GRAND FAILURE—THE CANADIAN CONFEDERATION.—From the tenor of the following, one would judge that the only thing which will save the French Exposition from failure will be the immense patronage from America and other foreign countries:

"The Paris Presse attributes the omission of any mention of the International Exhibition in the Emperor Napoleon's speech to his Majesty's dissatisfaction with the whole arrangements, and his expectation that it will turn out a gigantic failure. According to the Presse, the general public takes little interest in the affair, and the prices fixed are altogether too high for most pockets."

A Canadian correspondent of a London paper, after rehearsing what Canada and other British Provinces intend to send to the Paris Exposition, concludes as follows:

"The inhabitants of British Columbia and of Rupert's Land have also forwarded their contributions to the French Exhibition. Both of these settlements are anxiously awaiting the decision of the British Legislature on the question of the union of all the British possessions in North America. The Columbians rightly remark that the harbor of Vancouver is the natural and proper termination to the western part of the Atlantic and Pacific Road. The Red River settlers, in a memorial to the Queen, adopted at a public meeting of the merchants, traders and farmers, at the close of the year, pray her Majesty to organize them into a colony, with a view to their being embraced in the grand Confederation of the Provinces of British North America. They state, with truth, that they are now cut off from communication with their countrymen, and have to depend upon another Power for postal, trading and traveling facilities. And they pray that Parliament, before it rises, may be invited to consider and adjudicate upon their case. And thus, from Halifax on the Atlantic to New Westminster on the Pacific, a distance of 3,000 miles, the prayer on the lips of the people is one and the same—that the Queen and Parliament will promptly sanction the union of the territories of Canada, Acadia, and Columbia."

THE "MONGREL PARTY."—It will be recollected that some weeks ago the telegraph reported the New York World as advising the Southern Democrats to make haste to secure the negro vote before these people could learn to read and become "Radicals." The following is an entire paragraph from the World's article:

> In the interior of the South the negroes will be brought into contact only with conservative influences, and their temporary inability to read renders them impervious to radical appeals through the press. This is a condition of things which ought to be improved while it lasts, by such kind treatment and educational helps as will lead them to look to their white neighbors, instead of the distant Yankees as their benefactors. Vote they will, under the new regime in any event. It depends on the great body of intelligent planters whether the ballot in their hands shall prove an unmitigated and intolerable curse, or a harmless means of education and a bond of attachment to the communities in which they live. The regular election in Virginia takes place in May, only two months hence, and the future tranquility of that influential State hinges upon the decision which she may meanwhile make. In several of her counties the negro population outnumbers the white. Peace and order in those counties obviously depend upon courting and controlling the negro vote. To abstain from political action under such circumstances would be an infatuated resignation to ruin. A workman must not quarrel with his tools, when he can get no better. The less political power the South possess, the more it behooves them to make an effective use of what little they have. To win against odds by superior skill is altogether better than despondency and tame surrender. To prevent the negroes voting under the new law is impossible. It will be more politic and sagacious to manage them than to out vote them, although in most districts they can be out voted. But the blindest policy of all would be to stand still and do nothing, thus radicalizing the negroes, and thereby Africanizing the South.

"Courting the negro vote." What an occupation for a Democrat! Is a party which does this entitled to denounce its opponents as a "mongrel party?"

The San Antonio Ledger thus tells how a gallant in that city was sold during a recent norther:

A beauish young gent, who prides himself upon his politeness as well as good standing among the 'upper crust' of society, was following in the train of a well dressed female, during a high wind, when a puff took off her veil, and as good luck would have it, landed it directly in his face. He seized it, stepped forward until he came alongside, raised his hat and with the most excruciating politeness, said:

"Allow me fair lady, to return your veil of which rude Boreas so summarily deprived you."

"Yes, sah,' was the reply, 'I'se glad I so got it agin. I specked 'twas gone."

You ought to have seen that young gent. It was difficult to tell which was the blackest, his face or that of the lady.

Mr Foster of Connecticut in his valedictory to the Senate, said that during the 12 years he had occupied a seat in the Senate, 18 of its members had been removed by death, and in casting his eyes over that body he recognized only four members who were in the Senate when he entered it.

The refusal of the Government to return the Jeff Davis Mansion to the city of Richmond prevents the "Southern Orphan Association," a gift enterprise from fulfilling their contract, and the sale of tickets has been discontinued.

Synopsis of the National Bankrupt Law.

By the law passed, jurisdiction in bankruptcy is given to the several United States District Courts with the United States Circuit Courts acting in a supervisory capacity as Courts of Equity, and Judges of the District Courts will be assisted by Registers in Bankruptcy, whose powers are limited, and provision is made for reference of disputed questions to the District Court Judges, and for appeals from the District Courts to the Circuit Courts, and from the latter, in cases where the matter in dispute shall exceed two thousand dollars, to the United States Supreme Court.

There are two kinds of bankruptcy, voluntary and involuntary. In the former any person residing within the United States jurisdiction, owing over $300, and finding himself insolvent, may apply by petition to the Judge of the District in which he has resided for the six months preceding the date of the petition, or for the longest period during such six months and shall thereupon be declared a bankrupt. The creditors, having been properly notified by the Court, can appoint one or more assignees of the estate of the debtor, the choice to be made by the greater part in value and in number of the creditors who have proved their debts, or, in case of failure to agree, then by the District Judge, or, where there are no opposing creditors, by the Register. The whole affairs of the bankrupt pass into the hands of the assignees, who have full powers granted them necessary to the collection of all debts and the final adjustment and closing up of the estate, and where delays are likely to occur from litigation in the final distribution of the assets, the Court is empowered to direct their temporary investment. The bankrupt is liable at all times to be called up for examination on oath upon matters relating to the disposal or condition of his property, or business transactions, and for good cause his wife may in like manner be compelled to attend as a witness in the case.

In the distribution of the bankrupt's estate dividends are to be paid as agreed upon by a majority in value of the creditors, from time to time and at three months' intervals, but the following claims are to be paid in full. First, the fees, costs and expenses under the act; second, debts due the United States; third, State debts, taxes and assessments; fourth, wages to any operative, clerk or house servant to an amount not exceeding $50 for labor performed within six months preceding the bankruptcy; fifth, debts due to any persons who are or may be entitled to preference by the laws of the United States. The voluntary bankrupt is entitled to his discharge, provided no fraud is proved against him, at any time from sixty days to one year after adjudication of bankruptcy, but the proof or discovery of any fraud or concealment deprives him of the right to discharge. No person who has once received his discharge is to be entitled again to become a voluntary bankrupt, unless his estate is sufficient to pay seventy per cent of his debts, or unless three fourths of his creditors assent in writing to his bankruptcy. Preferences and fraudulent conveyances are declared void by the act, and suitable provisions are made for the voluntary bankruptcy of partnerships and corporations.

The exemptions are as follows:

"The necessary household and kitchen furniture, and such other articles and necessaries of such bankrupt as the assignee shall designate and set apart, having reference in the amount to the family, condition and circumstances of the bankrupt, but altogether not to exceed in value, in any case, the sum of $500; and also the wearing apparel of such bankrupt, and that of his wife and children, and the uniform, arms, and equipments of any person who is or has been a soldier in the militia or in the service of the United States; and such other property as now is or hereafter shall be exempted from attachment or seizure or levy on execution by the laws of the United States, and such other property, not included in the foregoing exceptions, as is exempted from levy and sale upon execution or other process or order of court, by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt has his domicil at the time of the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy to an amount not exceeding that allowed by such State exemption laws in force in the year 1864."

Acts of involuntary bankruptcy under the law are classified as follows: Departure or absence from the State where debts are owed, with intent to defraud creditors; concealment to avoid service of process for the recovery of debt; concealment of property to avoid seizure or legal process; assignments designed to delay, defraud, or hinder creditors; arrest and detention for seven days, under execution for a debt exceeding one hundred dollars; actual imprisonment for seven days in a civil action founded on a contract for one hundred dollars; assignment, gift, confession of judgment, or any other act by which preference is given to any creditor, indorser or surety; dishonoring commercial paper, or suspending and not resuming payment for fourteen days. The petition for an adjudication of bankruptcy in such cases may come from one or more creditors whose debts reach $250, but the petition must be brought within six months after the act of bankruptcy has been committed. In involuntary bankruptcy the proceedings are more stringent than in other cases. The penalty for any fraud or concealment, direct or indirect, under the act, is imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding three years.

The Feeling in Virginia.

A correspondent speaking of the debates in the Virginia Legislature on the bill to call a convention says: These speeches were remarkable only for invective and denunciation of the Radicals, eulogisms of General Robert E Lee and Jefferson Davis as two great suffering patriots. Some members wish the military commander, who it is supposed will be Gen. Schofield, to call the convention, while others want to go to Washington and ask President Johnson to do it. The majority of the members are, however, in favor of calling the convention "under protest."

Call it or not, it has now become a matter of extreme doubt whether such convention, brought together under the authority of this body, would exercise any influence on the future destinies of Virginia. The General Assembly are tardy in their action, have no unanimity one way or the other, spend their time in cavilling about their 'honor,' stirring up the embers of their lost cause, fostering its memories with a foolish and religious zeal, and instead of showing a desire for reconstruction, are assiduous in denouncing the horrible and unparalleled despotism of the ruling party. In short, this General Assembly—most of whom are disfranchised, continue to invite oppression, and were they capable of doing an act of patriotism by which the people of Virginia, would be vastly benefitted, they would immediately adjourn, and never more show their faces in public. The same spirit is now seen, and the same arguments are now used that defeated the Howard amendment in Virginia. Virginians will not stain their characters by self imposed degradation, they are not ready to accept the terms of the Sherman bill as the price of a voice in the next Presidential election, annihilation may follow its refusal, but even this could not justify the cruel and abhorrent measure they are required to adopt. Such are the pitiful ravings indulged in at such a crisis, by the General Assembly of Virginia.

This, however, is not a sentiment or feeling of the people, they long for a return of peace and quiet, when they can resume their avocations and labors with security. They ardently wish to be restored to their former footing in the Union which they attempted to destroy through the influence of the same politicians who would now renew the strife. They acknowledged defeat at Appomattox Court House, and have no further wish to prolong the struggle by an exhibition of hate and animosity as the old politicians of the State desire.

Already meetings are being held in various portions of the State demanding the call for a convention by their Representatives now in this city. The cry emanates from all classes and all parties—that firm adherence to the lofty, dignified and honorable position of non action assumed by their Representatives, is abandoned by the people, and ere many days pass over our heads numerous calls for a State convention will be issued by parties much more justified to make them than the present General Assembly.

A brother and sister who had not met for 55 years, lately had a reunion dinner near New London, Butler county, Ohio. The knives and forks used on that occasion, were 48 years old, the chairs 50 years of age, the tea cups and saucers, plates, etc, 30 years old. The turkeys were carved with a knife 48 years old, but the fowls themselves, we believe, were not correspondingly venerable.

The Codfisheries of the North Pacific.

The following article, recently published in the Cape Ann Advertiser, Gloucester, Mass., was contributed by James G Swan, who resided on the coast of Washington Territory for 15 years. He is also the author of the Northwest Coast, a work of considerable note. Gloucester is the centre of the great codfishing interest of the East. The article has additional significance because of the locality in which it appeared.

The knowledge of the existence of codfish in large quantities in the waters of the North Pacific Ocean is not of recent date, although it is only within the past few years that the public attention has been called to the fact. As long ago as 1770, a notice appeared in the Lond n Annual Register under date of June 28th, a few days before Capt. Cook left England for the North Pacific, in which, while making mention of the Spanish discoveries in 1774, it states that several Spanish frigates which had been sent from Acapulco, navigated as high up the coast as latitude 58 deg 20 min., where they found good harbors and navigable rivers, and it was imagined the new discoveries would be very advantageous, as the coast abounds with whales and Newfoundland cod.

The fact that cod, halibut and salmon abound, was also known and commented on by all the old fur traders, who made their headquarters in Nootka Sound, on the west coast of Vancouver's Island. Nothing, however, was done to develop the fisheries, except the operations of the Hudson Bay Company in the salmon fishery on the Columbia river, and the exertions of a few private individuals in the salmon fishery on the Puget Sound since 1852. Although it was well known that the waters of the ocean, the bays and rivers teemed with fish, yet the great rush and excitement about the gold mines, took the people's minds from every other occupation, until the influx of population and crowds of disappointed miners, gave the opportunity for pursuing explorations in another direction.

Vessels trading from San Francisco to the Amoor river, to Petropaulovski, to the Ochotsk and the Arctic, brought information of the quantities of cod that abounded in these waters, and several vessels were fitted out for the fishery, all of which met with great success. But the chance was too great. The round voyage averaging 30 or 40 days each way, too much time for the season's work; and gradually the vessels have been drawing over toward the American shore, till now the general fishing ground is north of Fox Islands in Bristol Bay, in lat. 58 deg north, lon 160 deg west. Still this position does not materially lessen the length of the voyage to San Francisco, and it has been an anxious question among the fishermen, whether some point nearer the fishing grounds could not be found, where fish could be cured, so as to admit of two voyages being made in the season, and whether fish could not be found nearer than Bristol Bay, which is almost up to Behring's Straits.

These two questions admit of solution, and I propose to show to those persons who are desirous of engaging in the fisheries of the North Pacific, that fish have already been taken nearer the American lines, and that we have in Washington Territory the very place for making the headquarters of the fisheries.

On the 1st day of June last, a little schooner of forty tons, called the Spray, Captain Crosby, sailed from Dungeness, in Washington Territory, to prospect for codfish north. After trying the coast at various points, she finally reached Kodiak Island, in the Russian Possessions on the 25th of June, where she remained a little more than a month, taking some 8,000 cod, from 10 to 20 barrels of salmon, and several tons of halibut. Her return voyage from Kodiak to Dungeness was made in less than 15 days. Captain Crosby informed me that the Governor of the Russian settlement at St. Paul—the seat of government on Kodiak—was very kind and hospitable, and ready to give every assistance and information. He stated that the fishing season was over in July, that it was best in April, and in the bays, was good all winter, for cod.

The schooner Sarah Louisa with a full cargo of codfish sailed from Kodiak for San Francisco a few days before the Spray arrived. We have the word of such men as the late William Sturgis of Boston, and others of the old northwest fur traders, to assure us that during the winter and spring months, cod, halibut and salmon abound in all the bays and islets north of the Straits of Fuca. The best grounds, however, are undoubtedly north of Queen Charlotte's Island.

CHARGE OF JUDGE TITUS AGAINST POLYGAMY.—The Salt Lake Vedette, of the 2d inst., thus alludes to the charge of Judge Titus against Mormon polygamy:

The charge of Chief Justice Titus to the grand jury yesterday, on the opening of the April term of the United States District Court, was replete with eloquence and true logic. It was the most bold, argumentative and impressive vindication of the right and justice of the anti polygamy law of Congress that has ever emanated from the lips of any living man. Judge Titus commenced from the creation of the first man and woman in the Garden of Eden, he traveled down the long vista of ages, and at every step added new proofs against that system, he traced with a masterly hand the origin of this assumed form of religion, depicted the downfall and ruin of every country that had adopted it, and drew a vivid picture of the present state of those countries where it is now tolerated. He portrayed in eloquent language how the Jews fell from their high position by advocating the doctrine in ages past, and paid a high tribute to their genius as a people, and also explained in a very lucid manner the entire prohibition of this practice by Divine law.

The Judge handled the subject in a masterly style, and warned all those who were aiding and abetting others in the violation of that or any other law of Congress, of the fearful retribution that must ensue sooner or later. He commented on the leniency of our Government in its forbearance, and disclaimed that he was actuated by a spirit of censure or prejudice, while he expressed a strong desire that the people of the territory should awaken from the delusion, that the Government would not much longer tolerate an open violation of her laws. We are free to confess, how vain is the task to do justice to the very able charge of Judge Titus, and our inability to convey to our readers the impression made on all who heard him. Mormon and Gentile, all confess it was one of the most manly, open and unprejudiced declarations, of a determination to perform strictly the sworn duties of his sacred office that ever fell from the lips of any Judge upon any bench. The address to the Jury was tempered with kind advice and admonition, but was characterized throughout with the principle that at all hazards, he should at least perform the duties without fear or favor, and that he was ever ready to discuss the subject on spiritual grounds with any one who desired it.

At the conclusion of the charge, one of the Grand Jurors arose in his seat and asked to be excused. "On what grounds?" asked the Judge. "I am a polygamist," answered the juror. "That makes no difference," said the Judge. "I am not your accuser; take your seat sir." The Judge then asked if he had violated the Act of 1862, but advised him of his privilege to refuse to answer the question. The juror replied that "he had no more to say." Zera Snow, Esq., Territorial Prosecuting Attorney, then arose and said that he, too, was a polygamist, and added "that as the Judge had, in his remarks, said that no one should question or refuse obedience to the mandates of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, he concurred in such an opinion and therefore was a polygamist."

GRACE GREENWOOD.—Grace Greenwood objects to the Boston correspondent of the Chicago Tribune calling her volume of sketches "Records of Five Forks," instead of "Records of Five Years." There is a difference, certainly. She wishes also to be set right matrimonially, in manner following—to quote her own words: "My husband is not the Lippincott so often bestowed upon me in marriage, but one who never endowed me with his 'worldly goods'—not J B Lippincott of Philadelphia, the 'great publisher.' He is L K Lippincott, but he publishes a great little magazine in Philadelphia, viz the Little Pilgrim, devoted to the instruction and amusement of dear children—God bless them!" Grace has been remarkably gushing on the subject of children since marriage. It will be remembered she wrote some marvelously pretty verses on the arrival of the first born

STATE ITEMS.

The Sentinel says, W. C. Myer, of Ashland, informs us that his valuable horse, Coburg, died of fever, at Brownsville in Linn county, on the 30th ultimo. Coburg was valued at $5,000, and his death is not only a serious pecuniary loss to the owner, but an irreparable one to the stock raisers of the State. He will not soon be replaced.

The Jacksonville Press says: The excitement with regard to the new diggings on Jump-Off Joe still continues unabated; and persons returning from there bring with them the most tangible evidences of their unquestionable richness in the shape of the regular, genuine ore or dust. Every day witnesses the departure of individuals for the seat of mining operations, and ere long we may expect to hear of a new village springing up in that neighborhood.

The Sentinel has the following notice of a copper lode in Josephine county: The copper ledge on Fall creek, owned by Crandall and others, has been prospected some during the past winter, and the company are now building a furnace, which will be ready for smelting purposes about the first of May. The ore contains, besides copper both gold and silver. An Austrian who is constructing the smelting works has taken from the rock about $300 worth of the precious metals, the past winter with such chemicals and implements as he could procure for the occasion. The lead is about fifteen miles from Kirbyville down the Illinois river.

The following is a Roseburg item: A bouncing "belle" arrived in town a few days ago from the north and favored the "Metropolitan" with her presence, where she attracted much attention principally from the "baser born" portion of our population. Suddenly, about ten o'clock last Saturday night, a strange gentleman, by the name of Stowe, appeared in town, who, it seems had deserted a young and loving wife in the Willamette, and was in hot pursuit of our "wayward sister," with whom he purposed to flee from the wrath to come, and to seek worldly consolation in some distant region or more congenial clime. But the course of true love never yet run smooth, and next morning Sheriff Howe arrested the poor fellow for burglary, upon the authority of a telegram from Eugene City. Simultaneous with his arrest, our distinguished arrival and guest of the "Metropolitan" took her departure south, creating quite a sensation in town.

Woolen Factory in Southern Oregon.

The Sentinel of Jacksonville thus speaks of this enterprise:

We learn that the capital stock of the Rogue River Woolen Co yet to be taken is only about six thousand dollars. In remarks on this subject last week, we may have done injustice to some of the citizens of this place for their lack of interest in this matter but still venture the opinion that a few are hostile to the enterprise from interested motives. Some of our citizens have explained that since the failure of the Occidental Quartz Co, there has been no surplus capital to invest and a general distrust of incorporated companies. It should be borne in mind that the factory enterprise is one that cannot well fail if properly managed. The manufacture of anything, where there is a certain market is a legitimate business, for which the returns are certain and regular. Who ever heard of a woolen mill blowing up or the company collapsing without, perhaps, the machinery was propelled by steam and the boilers defective? When did any one hear of a woolen factory on this coast having been sold to pay the debts of the company? Quartz speculations are speculations in the strictest sense of the word, and those who engage in them are often bitten with the best of management.

A rich "pocket" may induce men to put up costly machinery and substantial buildings; the "pocket" is exhausted leaving barren rock to be worked. No returns are yielded the machinery and buildings are valueless and the unlucky speculators cry out "robbery" and curse incorporated companies. Not so with the enterprise we advocate. It is something real, tangible that eventually brings prosperity to a community and increases with the growth of a country. Our people might at least take the remainder of the stock, as there is little doubt that the certain success of the mill at Ashland will eventually induce the building of one in Jacksonville of equal or greater capacity.

Mr Beckett, the present proprietor of Point Breeze, Bordentown, the residence of Joseph Bonaparte, when in this country, having paid the tax on his property under protest, carried the case to the Supreme Court of New Jersey, which has decided that the property of an alien is not exempt from taxation. It is probable that an appeal will be at once made to the United States Supreme Court. This is a test case, and other aliens will await with interest the final decision.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 20 1867

The Same Old Song.

The declaration of the Copperhead Convention of Washington Territory that there is no obstacle in the way of harmony in our Government "save the factious course of a mutilated Congress," is quite like the complaint which that party made six years ago to the effect that the only obstacle in the way of harmony then was that its opponents were bent on resorting to the unconstitutional policy of coercion, or in other words, that they would not let Jefferson Davis and his compatriots alone. "All we ask," said these men, "is to be let alone," and their Copperhead allies taking this perfectly fair declaration as the basis of their argument, proceeded to arraign the Union party for causing the war. The only obstacle in the way of peace, as they thought, was the factious and unconstitutional course of loyal men in taking measures to suppress the rebellion Had the rebels been allowed to have their way, there would have been no war So now, if these same men who have been who have been defeated in their criminal attempt to destroy this Government, were allowed, to have their way, harmony would doubtless be restored. Hence it appears clearly enough to satisfy the Copperhead mind, that a "mutilated Congress," backed the people who suppressed the rebellion, is keeping the country in a state of violent agitation and preventing the return of the era of tranquality and good feeling. The remedy is very simple indeed,—quite as simple as it was six years ago. Only grant what our Southern brethren demand, and the "only obstacle" is at once removed.

Of course, they who talk about a "mutilated Congress" never find it convenient to consider how the mutilation occurred. It was perfectly proper in their view for the Southern members to quit their places as they did in 1860-61, and leave Congress a "mutilated" body. They who now bandy this epithet had no objection then to this action, and none whatever to a "mutilated Congress." This term is of later invention. But it may be proper to remark to those who are employing it, since they are evidently laboring under no little confusion in regard to the subject, that the "Radicals" in Congress of whom they complain so bitterly are not responsible for this mutilation. The political friends of the Washington Territory Copperheads "mutilated Congress" some six years since. That being the fact, the friends of the Confederates have no cause to complain.

It is the same old story over again. Everything is "unconstitutional." The loyal people by whose sacrifices the nation was saved are the only obstacles" in the way of the restoration of harmony Men who shed their blood to prevent the disruption of the Union are denounced as "traitors,"—and care is taken that such censure shall not fall upon those who are actually guilty of treason, and who fought to destroy the Union. The country is going to ruin, and "consolidation" which has been the cry ever since that fiction was invented three-quarters of a centuries ago, is still presented as a bugbear. This party croaked in our ears in 1861 that the policy of coercion would inevitably lead to permanent separation; it insisted that the slaveholders' rebellion could never be put down it declared that emancipation was the death-knell of the Union, it indignantly asserted that the policy of arming negroes to fight for the Government would be the ruin of the nation; it declared the war for the Union a failure, and on that ground asked in vain for the people's votes, it proclaimed that the re election of Lincoln would render the war interminable and dissolution certain—all these and other direful prophesies it uttered—yet what one of them proved true? And yet this detected, exposed party, with its record of disloyalty and with its thousand falsified predictions confronting it, still continues its doleful croakings. What true man believes any one of its utterances?

Happy Prospect for Office Holders.

It is not likely that there will ever be enough offices, State or National, or both, to fill the demand The disappointed genius whose failure to obtain office drew from him the cynical observation that the country had not places enough at its disposal to provide for all its friends, was undoubtedly correct in his melancholy conclusion The public service, or rather the public bounty, is sufficient for the support of many pensioners, yet ample as are the charities of this great eleemosynary institution, Secretary Seward is in favor of enlarging them. He has pity for the hungering crowds that hang around the White House and the Departments waiting for their turn to be served, or who go away with the elongated visages of men whose claims are rejected; and with considerate kindness proposes to provide for a large number of them at once. This he would do by dividing our newly acquired possessions into six Territories and placing them under regularly organized territorial governments. Here indeed would be a field for office holders. Here would be sinecures without limit; public plunder without stint Governors would be wanted, Secretaries would be in demand, Assessors and Collectors of Internal Revenue would be required, Indian Superintendents and Agents,—no end to th[illegible] be indispensable, and better than all, six ambitious individuals would go biennially to Washington as delegates to Congress, taking the longest route and drawing mileage for a journey equal to half the distance round the world. What a boundless prospect both for veteran pensioners and for those thirsting after new adventures! The best speculation on the continent would be to go to the Northern Territories and run for Congress. Secretary Seward evidently knows how to sympathize with men who purpose to make office-getting and office-holding a profession. If Congress acts on his suggestion, more than one generation of office holders will call him their benefactor.

But it is not likely that Congress will do so absurd a thing. There is not the smallest necessity for dividing the new purchase into six Territories, or two. The idea that six States can be created out of it, is well enough as a pleasing dream for Mr. Seward to indulge in; but of course it is utterly impracticable. A single territorial government is all that is necessary. The acquisition is of immense value to the United States, but no one except a person who is capable of taking Mr. Seward's rosy view of things, believes that we shall ever have six States formed out of that territory. The population of the whole of it taken together, can never be very large, and the northern portion will never be occupied by white men There is no occasion for going to an extravagant expense in governing it. It would be a windfall for a troop of office-seekers to have Mr. Seward's suggestions carried out; but as the country evidently lacks the ability to provide for all its friends, it may as well avoid the expense which would follow an effort to do it.

J. W. Stevens, Esq., has been nominated by the Union party as candidate for Prosecuting Attorney in the Walla Walla District of Washington Territory, consisting of the counties of Walla Walla, Stevens and Clickatat It is believed with a p[illegible] effort he can be elected

The London Engineer does not think the Atlantic cables will be serviceable much longer It says "How long the Atlantic cables will last before an accident occurs, is a matter of some speculation. We shall be astonished if two years pass without an interruption."

The Richmond Times howls piteously over the new reconstruction act. It is, in the judgment of that organ of treason, an unmitigated evil In its weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth, it reaches the climax by saying

"The most hideous and revolting feature of that invention of the devil—the 'Sherman bill'—is that whether we consent to return to the Union, or prefer to remain at the mercy of the military, we cannot avoid the outrage of negro suffrage."

Mr William Pickford, Cloak manufacturer, with O. & J Mowbray 209 Grand Street, New York, uses five Grover & Baker Machines in his business and considers them superior to any other machine for cloak making, on account of the elasticity and firmness of the stitch, and the capacity of the machines for embroidering. (Successors to Kellogg, Hewston & Company)

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

JOHN PARROTT, CHAS R. McLANE,
WM C RALSTON, A HAYWARD,
LOUIS A CARNETT

LOUIS A CARNETT . . . President and Manager.
JOHN HEWSTON Jr Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the minting and commercial value of bullion

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS.

One-eighth of one per cent (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000 and two dollars for any smaller sum Returns made in twenty-four hours

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,000, and one eighth of one per cent, for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent on the silver contained Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce
On bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 750½@949½ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce

Above 950 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars

FOR COINING GOLD

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent —and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co's Express.

CHARGES AT U S BRANCH MINT

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution.

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 3 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 300½@600 parts gold, 5 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 600½@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce.

For refining bullion from 750½@830 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce

For refining bullion from 830½@949½ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce

The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ½ of one per cent.—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage:

850 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents

845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents

865 par to equal San Francisco A. & R. Works return, at refining charge of 8 cents mh1d2p3m

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—A citizen of a distant part of our State has lately visited the public schools of Portland and he sends us a long letter detailing what he saw and what he thinks of them. The letter is too long for publication but we furnish the following from it: Having a little spare time, I concluded to visit your public schools, and at the ringing of the first bell on the morning of the 15th found myself politely invited to examine the grounds and house of Mr. R. K. Warren's school in the southern part of Portland. To say that I was pleased with the … and the appearance of all, both teachers and pupils, is but an imperfect idea of the result of my observations. There is a thoroughness in all the branches taught commendable alike to teachers and pupils. In the afternoon I visited Mr. Frambes' school and found a most … emulation and equal thoroughness in the … branches taught by all the teachers. In the intermediate department, Miss Way allowed her scholars a few … exercise in the hand and arm recreation, which was quite commendable to the scholars, and showed good discipline and active exercise of the arms and hands, useful to both body and mind. Portland may well be proud of her public schools with her seven hundred children daily under the tuition of her faithful teachers."

The visitor went to the Portland Academy on the following day and writes thus: "Having expressed a wish to see the school exercise in their calesthenics, the principal informed me that they usually exercised in the afternoon. Upon informing him that I wished to visit the Catholic High School in the afternoon, he kindly changed that exercise immediately after recess. This was certainly a kindness I had no right to expect, but the prompt and cheerful manner that the school attended upon that exercise was cheering and delightful. But I propose to tell your readers all about it that I can, and then you must see that one hundred and twenty nice young ladies and gentlemen exercise to get a correct idea. With a polite notice, in half a minute or less, two … of small round sticks, about three feet in length and one inch in diameter, were brought in—a student standing at each bundle of sticks. The bell struck twice, and the young ladies from the other room all came in in single file. At the same moment, all the young men rose and marched around to give room for the ladies. At one bell the music commenced, when the line … ched past the two students with the two … of sticks, and as each passed each received a stick, marched in line out in front of the building, and formed two lines, 60 in each. The lines formed, all numbered, 1, 2, 3. At the word one and three stepped forward to their … e, having first laid down their sticks. The order given, the arm and hand exercise commenced. The … were made to keep time with the music. The whole exercise occupied about fifteen minutes. Unless I greatly mistake what I saw, its moral and physical effect upon the mind and body is ennobling. The discipline is …, and the student adopts it as an accomplishment, and as a matter of pride, as well as the exercise it gives to those muscles that are not exercised during the hours of study or of recitation. The whole school ladies and … exercise together, which is a thousand times … to that of the ball room, although personally I do not object to dancing, and I hope the time is not distant when this system of exercise will be introduced into all our common schools as an aid to discipline and …. The order in this school was more perfect than in any school I have yet visited or heard of in this …"

… 's COURT.—In the Recorder's court yesterday, the following proceedings were had: The case of Mrs. McCugh, … the day before, was continued under …

… Mulligan, charged with violent and disorderly … in the saloon of Celia Levy, Sunday night last, was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Alvy Gorridge, who came from Victoria by the Fidelilter, lodged a complaint against Jane Robinson, a saloon waiter-girl, charging her with robbing him of $15 in gold and a $10 note on the bank of British Columbia. The girl was arrested and had an examination. Gorridge was the only witness on the part of the prosecution who could throw any light on the subject, and his story was very contradictory and much muddled. CIRCUIT COURT FOR COLUMBIA CO.—Judge Shattuck has been holding Court for Columbia county, at St. Helens, this week. There were about a dozen cases, civil and criminal, on the docket, all of which were disposed of for the term. Among the criminal cases were the following:

State vs. J. R. Majors, indicted for selling liquor without license; acquitted

State vs. O. P. Walker, indicted for permitting a gambling device to be set up on his premises; tried, and acquitted.

State vs. H. O. Victor, indicted for defacing a dwelling house, (Capt. Adams), acquitted

State vs. Majors, indicted for violation of the Sunday law; acquitted

State vs M L Armstrong, indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon continued till next term

Two or three indictments for gambling were dismissed on the motion of the Prosecuting Attorney.

OUR FOLKS AT SAN FRANCISCO.—We copy the following notice of "our folks" at San Francisco from a letter dated April 12th. Oregon is well represented here now. Maj.-Gen. Steele, Maj. Foster, Maj. Glenn, Lieut. Borrowe, and W. K. Ish are at the Cosmopolitan, E. N. Cooke, S. E. May, J. S. Smith, L. F. Grover, F. A. Savier, J. M. Keeler and Geo. Edes are at the Lick, Judge Deady, Dr. Robinson, E. S. Morgan and R. H. Lord are at the Occidental; Chas. Hodge, Thos. Charman and A. Taylor are at the Russ, and numerous others whose names I cannot recall, are quartered at other different hotels in town. Some of them leave for the Atlantic States and Europe on the 18th inst., and some for their old homes, in Oregon, to-morrow.

FREIGHT FROM BELOW.—The Ranger arrived from Monticello yesterday afternoon, with 111,000 shingles, 40 gunnies potatoes, and 30 bags oats. She also brought thirteen passengers. Her shingles were taken on board the Oriflamme for San Francisco.

PASSENGERS FOR VICTORIA.—The Fidelilter took away for Victoria, last evening, about twenty passengers, among whom were several of the delegates in the late Vancouver Conventions

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE!

Pain Killer taken internally, should be adulterated with milk or water, and sweetened with sugar if desired, or made into a syrup with molasses. For a cough, a few drops on sugar eaten will be more effective than anything else. For sore throat, gargle the throat with a mixture of Pain Killer and water, and relief is immediate and the cure positive.

It should not be forgotten that the Pain Killer is equally as good to take internally as to use externally. Each bottle is wrapped with full directions for its use. Dyspepsia can be and is cured every day by the use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. This is the most wonderful and valuable medicine ever known for this disease. Its action upon the system is entirely different from any other preparation known. The patient, while taking this medicine, may eat anything the appetite craves. Sold by all medicine dealers. mh20dawlm

MANHOOD AND YOUTHFUL VIGOR are regained by HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

Bronchitis or Chronic Sore Throat.—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. The irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood. If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settles into confirmed consumption. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into the consumption. For sale by dealers in family medicine generally. ia20

The Best Remedy for Purifying the Blood, Strengthening the Nerves, Restoring the Lost Appetite, is

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 695 AND 697 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the connoisseurs, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

The University

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

THE LANDS OF THE ABOVE-NAMED ASSOCIAtion are situated in San Francisco and are eligibly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society, on which College buildings are to be at once erected. The site is less than thirty minutes ride from Montgomery street; lying just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading, there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore, and has a soil of extreme richness. So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon

The Rev. E. Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L. Robinson formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas B. Lewis, formerly of Portland, Secretary.

Four lots, 2x120 feet each, constitute a share, costing $316—paid in monthly instalments of $10 each, after the first payment of $16 has been made.

Maps and books giving full information of the workings of the Association can be obtained at the store of J. L. PARRISH & CO.

It is an easy and a cheap way for young men to procure property which will in a few years make them independent.

"Mark Twain" on Female Suffrage.

"THE INIQUITOUS CRUSADE AGAINST MAN'S REGAL BIRTHRIGHT MUST BE CRUSHED."

DEAR COUSIN JENNIE: I did not know I had a cousin named Jennie, I am proud to claim such a relationship with you. I have no idea who you are, but you talk well—you talk exceedingly well. You seemed inclined to treat the question of female suffrage seriously, and for once I will drop foolishness and speak with the gravity the occasion demands. You fully understand the difference between justice and expediency? I am satisfied you do. You know very well that it would have been a righteous act if we had rescued struggling Poland four or five years ago; but you know also that it would not have been good policy to do it. Not one should vote; no one will say that an educated American woman would not vote with fifty times the judgment and independence exercised by stupid, illiterate newcomers from foreign lands; I will even go so far myself as to say that in my experience only third-rate intelligence is sent to Legislatures to make laws, because the first-rate article will not leave important private interests go unwatched to go and serve the public for a beggarly four or five dollars per day, and a miserably trivial distinction, while it is possible that a talented matron, unincumbered with children, might go with no great detriment to the affairs of her household. We know also that between constable and United States Senator, the one thousand offices of mere honor (though burdened with high responsibilities), are held by third-rate ability because first-rate ability can only afford to hold offices of great emolument—and we know that first-rate female talent could afford to hold those offices of mere honor without making business sacrifices. You see I have made a very strong argument for your side; and I repeat that no one will deny the truth of any of the above propositions; but behold that matter of expediency comes in here—policy!

Now, you think I am going to string out a long argument on my own side, but I am not. I only say this: The ignorant foreign women would vote with the bad men, the good women would vote with the good men. The same candidate who would be elected now would be elected then, the only difference being that there might be twice as many votes polled then as now. Then in what respect is the condition of things improved? I cannot see.

So, I conceive that if nothing is to be gained by it, it is inexpedient to extend the suffrage to women. That must be a benefit beyond the power of figures to estimate which can make us consent to take the High Priestess we reverence at the sacred fireside and send her forth to electioneer for votes among a mangy mob who are unworthy to touch the hem of her garment. A lady of my acquaintance came very near putting my feeling in this matter into words the other day, Jennie, when she said she was opposed to female suffrage, because she was not willing to see her sex reduced to a level with negroes and men!

Female suffrage would do harm, my dear—it would actually do harm. A very large proportion of our best and wisest women would still cling to the holy ground of the home circle, and refuse to either vote or hold office but every grand rascal among your sex would work, bribe and vote with all her might; and, behold, mediocrity and dishonesty would be appointed to conduct the affairs of Government more surely than ever before. You see the policy of the thing is bad, very bad. It would augment the strength of the bad vote. I consider it a very strong point on our side of the question.

I think I could write a pretty strong argument in favor of female suffrage, but I do not want to do it. I never want to see women voting, and gabbing about politics, and electioneering. There is something revolting in the thought. It would shock me inexpressibly for an angel to come down from above and ask me to take a drink with him (though I should doubtless consent); but it would shock me still more to see one of our earthly angels peddling election tickets among a mob of shabby scoundrels she never saw before.

There is one insuperable obstacle in the way of female suffrage, Jennie; I approach the subject with fear and trembling, but it must out. A woman would never vote, because she would have to tell her age at the polls. And even if she did dare to vote once or twice when she was just of age you know what dire results would flow from "putting this and that together" in after times. For instance, in an unguarded moment, Miss A. says she voted for Mr. Smith. Her auditor, who knows that it has been seven years since Smith ran for anything, easily ciphers out that she is at least seven years over age, instead of the tender young pullet she has been making herself out to be. No, Jennie, this new fashion of registering the name, age, residence and occupation of every voter, is a fatal bar to female suffrage.

Women will never be allowed to vote or hold office Jennie, and it is a lucky thing for me, and for many other men, that such is the decree of fate. Because, you see, there are some few measures they all would unite on—there are one or two measures that would bring out their entire voting strength, in spite of their antipathy to making themselves conspicuous; and there being vastly more women than men in this State, they would trot those measures through the Legislature with a velocity that would be appalling. For instance, they would enact:

1. That all men should be at home by 10 P. M. without fail.
2. That married men should bestow considerable attention on their own wives.
3. That it should be a hanging offense to sell whisky in saloons, and that fine and disfranchisement should follow the drinking of it in such place.
4. That the smoking of cigars to excess should be forbidden, and the smoking of pipes should be utterly abolished.
5. That the wife should have a little of her own property when she married a man who hadn't any.

Jennie, such tyranny as this we could never stand. Our free souls could never endure such degrading thralldom. Women, go your way! Seek not to beguile us of our imperial privileges. Content yourself with your little feminine trifles—your babies, your benevolent societies and your knitting—and let your natural bosses do the voting—stand back—you will be wanting to go to war next. We will let you teach school as much as you want to, and we will pay you half wages for it, too, but beware! we don't want you to crowd us too much.

If I get time, Cousin Jennie, I will furnish you a picture of a female legislature that will distress you. I know it will, because you cannot disguise from me the fact that you are no more in favor of female suffrage, really than I am.

In conclusion, honesty compels me to tell you that I have been highly complimented a dozen times on my articles signed "Cousin Jennie and "A. L." The same honesty, though, compelled me to acknowledge that I did not write either of these articles.

MARK TWAIN.

P. S. That tiresome old goose, my wife, is prancing around like a lunatic, up stairs, rehearsing a speech in favor of female suffrage which she is going to deliver at a mass meeting of seditious old maids in my back parlor to-night. (She is a vigorous speaker, but you can smell her eloquence further than you can hear it; it is on account of gin, I think.) It is a pity those old skeletons have chosen my back parlor, because I have concluded to touch off a keg of powder under there to-night, and I'm afraid the noise may disturb their deliberations some.

A SNAKE IN A STOVE.—We learn that a gentleman residing in our town, some few weeks ago purchased a lot of old condemned sleepers from a railroad company for the purpose of using them as firewood. They were accordingly conveyed to his residence and sawed in suitable lengths for the stove and were used as fuel, and as such gave great satisfaction, until one evening the good wife placed one of the pieces in the stove, when a very remarkable occurrence happened. Shortly after placing the wood in the stove, her attention was attracted by a singular noise in the room, not unlike the crying of a child or the moaning of a person in distress, and upon searching for the cause of it, ascertained that it proceeded from the stove, and becoming somewhat alarmed, called in her husband and acquainted him of the matter. The gentleman at once advanced to the stove, and upon opening the door a strange and fearful sight met his gaze—right in the midst of the blazing flames was a large black snake writhing in agony and uttering the most piteous noise which had attracted the attention of the lady. The snake slowly crawled out of the stove and dropped on the floor a veritable "fiery serpent," and in a few seconds expired. The snake had doubtless entered a cavity in the sleeper in the Fall, and relapsing into a torpid state, was only aroused when encompassed by the flame.—Hanover (Pa.) Spectator.

TEACH YOUR CHILDREN MUSIC.—You will stare at a strange notion like mine. If it appears even a mad one, do not wonder. Had I children my utmost endeavor should be to breed them musicians. Considering I have no ear for music, the preference seems odd, and yet is embraced on frequent reflection. In short, as my aim would be to make them happy, I think it the most probable method. It is a resource which will last them their lives, unless they grow deaf; always amuses and soothes, if not consoles; and of all fashionable pleasures is the cheapest. It is capable of fame without the danger of criticism: is susceptible of enthusiasm, without being priest ridden; and unlike other moral passions, is sure of being gratified even in Heaven.—Horace Walpole.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M.,
April 19, 1867.

Our latest quotation of gold at New York was under date April 13th, on which day it closed at 135¼. At San Francisco, on the 14th, legal tenders were quoted dull at 74c buying and 74½ selling. Gold bars were held at 870, and silver bars at ½ per cent. premium. No later quotations.

Jobbing trade very dull, generally speaking. The increased firmness in the San Francisco market for wheat and flour, has had the effect to strengthen those staples here, notwithstanding the increased rates of freight. Though there are but two or three changes in the prices of brands quoted, it is probable that during the week all brands may be advanced. We quote Salem Mills 50c higher, Dayton extra superfine 25c and country brands 25c advance. The demand for bacon sides and hams is fair and the stock on hand is not increasing, though the arrivals have been comparatively large. We quote as last week. The stock of Oregon butter is large, without demand. There have been no sales worthy of mention and prices are merely nominal at 15@25c. There is very little demand for dried fruit. Lard is in full supply with but little demand. The rates quoted are nominal

During the week we hear of a few sales of assorted groceries at full prices, for the upper Columbia. This cannot, however, be taken as an indication of the opening of the spring trade, the orders being exceptional and the result of local exhaustion of stocks. We quote a decline in almost all brands of oils.

We publish to-day a fuller list with carefully revised prices of hardware.

The Oriflamme is advertised to sail to morrow evening. She will take a large amount of flour and a fair proportion of country produce

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, April 19, 1867.

The produce market is excessively dull. With the exception of flour, wheat, bacon sides and hams and a moderate demand for best winter apples, the market is flat. Wheat tends to an advance in price: we quote it 75c@80c. Ground feed is a little higher, we quote it at $25@$30.

The arrivals of produce from the Willamette for the week ending as follows: 2,281 boxes apples, 12,000 qr. sks. flour, 278 bags wheat, 850 gunnies bacon, 361 cases do., 132 hf. bbls. dried apples, 160 hlf. bbls. lard, 128 cases do., 52 cans do., 25 gunnies hams, 607 bags feed, 13 bbls. mess beef, 104 boxes eggs, 178 bags oats and 167 miscellaneous pkges produce.

HAY, OATS AND GROUND FEED FOR SALE BY R. H. LAW.

Medical.

DR. HENLEY'S
Fountain of Life!

THE

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE PERIODS ARRIVE when a new direction is imparted to its course. These epochs proceed from discovery of new facts shedding a light which changes the whole aspect of the science. The present is an epoch of this kind, and this Great Remedy, now offered to the public, in connection with the theory on which it is based, is destined to effect an entire revolution in the treatment of the diseases of

by eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE is composed entirely of vegetable extracts; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything, from the days of Æsculapius down to the present time, in the arcana of Medical Science, which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. Its value has been tested with the happiest effect in the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world. No matter what form the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and certainly arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been swept into their graves, who had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires an article of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the stern ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test trial, and not been found wanting

Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world, and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made—provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured

FOR REFERENCE:

I would refer you to L. L. Peck, of Portland, Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

DR. WM. HENLEY,
Portland, Oregon.

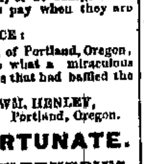
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney St., cor. Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian (or Weekly Oregonian, as the case may be.)

Sheriff's Sale.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the County Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Multnomah, to me directed, in favor of John M. Breck and against Thomas J. Allen, for the sum of $271 25 and interest and costs, I have, this 11th day of April, 1867, for want of personal property, levied on that certain piece or parcel of land lying and being in Multnomah county, Oregon, known and described as 44 acres in sections 5 and 6, T. 1 S, R. 2 E, of the property of the said T. J Allen, being the part of the donation land claim of Daniel L Protlyman, conveyed by said Prettyman to Thomas J. Allen, and on the 10th day of May, 1867, at the hour of 10 o'clock, A. M., in front of the Court House door in said State and county, I will sell the same (or so much thereof as shall be necessary to satisfy said execution, interest and costs) at public auction to the highest bidder therefor.
